MATERIALS LSIT | Silverpoint Workshop

Styli and Drawing Implements

- Silverpoint stylus dual holder, Natural Pigments PLUS a thin and a thick piece of dead soft sterling silver (also from Natural Pigments). They also have kits and other metal varieties which you are welcome to buy, though they will not be necessary for the workshop

—OR—

- Silverpoint styli designed and produced by Gavin Gardner available at Townsend Atelier's store. They are designed after Renaissance styli, are heirloom pieces and the only instrument you will ever need. They are the personal preference of the instructor who designed them for his working needs. If you plan on purchasing one, please let us know (info@townsendatelier.com) so that we can make sure we have on hand for you (they are available by special order and take some time to make). These styli are made from pure silver and are $275.
- Golden Taklon Brush, round no. 3 from Trekell Art Supplies

Grounds and Pigments and Toners

- Titanium White Pigment, from Natural Pigments. Buy the smallest quantity they have, you only need a little.
- I will provide other pigments and grounds

Panels and Paper

- 1 4x6 or 5x7 inch unprimed panel (either hardboard from Trekell or aluminum composite from Natural Pigments). You can also buy hardboard masonite or cabinet grade birch at

Home Depot

- 1 4x6 or 5x7 unprimed hardboard or birch panel, Trekell Art Supplies or Home Depot. THIS ONE MUST BE WOOD! The one above can be aluminum panel if you choose
- Clay Coated Paper — Provided by instructor
- 1 Sheet of heavy weight cold press watercolor paper

- Rublev Mounting Adhesive (8 oz.), from Natural Pigments

Incidentals

- 2 oz jar with lid
- 1 ounce jar or smaller. I like the dram glass jars from the container store, but anything will probably do. It needs to be the size of a small food coloring bottle or a model paint jar.
- 1 fresh egg still in the shell
- x-acto
- 3 x 1" chip brush from Home Depot or Lowes
- A piece of coarse and a piece of fine sand paper
- 6H graphite pencil
- Gummy Eraser
